My dear Friend

William Lloyd Garrison, I write to request thee to forward me a copy of the Liberator of last week, I generally get it on 7th day, and have looked for it every mail since. I now think it either was not mailed, or has been overlook'd in one of the post offices. My wife desires me to enquire of thee, whether either thyself, or our friend George Thompson, left a linen over coat when you were last at our House. She found it hung up in the closet in the room where you slept, till lately she thought it belonged to me, as I had two. but some one of our friends must have left it. If the coat does belong to thee, please enquire of our friend Thompson if it belongs to him, and oblige thy friend
